MADERO WAS UNABLE TO CHECK HIS ARMY REBELS RUSH THE FIGHT

Ignoring Commands of General and Yielding to Lust for Battle They Attack Juarez and Precipitate a Crisis With This Nation by Reckless Firing.

ATTACK AND ENTER JUAREZ

Bullets Fly Through Streets of El Paso, Killing Two Americans and One Mexican—Many Known to Be Dead in Besieged City, Which Is Deserted by Inhabitants—Federals Retreat to Strongholds and Turn Field Guns on Enemy.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—Disgusted with their leader's dilatory tactics in dealing with the Mexican government Madero's insurgents took the bit in their teeth and ran away with the war wagon. The result was the hardest fought battle of the present insurrection.

While Francisco I. Madero was discussing peace propositions with the Mexican and insuriente commissioners and go-betweens, the advance guard of the insuriente army and the outposts of the federals mixed it up in front of the El Paso Union station, on the Mexican side of the river.

First a few shots were fired, and then the fighting became general until at least 600 insurgents were in Juarez.

Madero and Navarro, commanding the respective forces of insurientes and federales, were in conference about an armistice pending a meeting of the peace commission, when the battle opened.

They were conducting their conversation over the telephone.

The fighting was going on between them. They attempted an armistice, but the insurientes refused to quit.

Madero sent the first messenger with a white flag to tell his men to cease.

They shot at their own chief's messenger. Madero protested vigorously that it was not a general assault, but gradually his men continued workin their way to the front until their numbers grew as gradually they worked their way back into the town. But the fighting bullets fell thick in the streets of El Paso and hit houses all over town in the business section and in the residence section. Three persons were killed in El Paso, two Americans and a Mexican, and six wounded, four Americans, one a woman, and one Mexican. All were hit by high-power rifle shots from federales.

Bullets Strike Fifty Houses.

The insurientes' bullets were directed away from El Paso and the reply fire of the federales was in the direction of El Paso. At least 50 El Paso houses were struck. Insuriente chiefs declare that drunken Mexican volunteers opened the fire. General Navarro of the federales says the insurientes opened it.

Navarro is reported wounded, but this is not confirmed. It is known that there are from 10 to 25 dead in the city of Juarez and anywhere from 50 to 100 wounded. There are no doctors. All citizens of the Mexican town have left the place and the telephones are silent when called from the El Paso side of the river.

The federales have retired to the strongholds inside the city and are firing with rifles and machine guns.

Explosive bullets are being used on both sides. Wounds of the dead and injured prove this, also the peculiar sounds of the bullets. The insurientes are using their two home-made cannon, but are doing no damage.

The federales are using field guns and howitzers and are throwing explosive shells in the direction of the rebels.

Rebels Repulsed.

Tangier, May 9.—The rebels attacked Fez fiercely, but were repulsed with the loss of 100 killed, besides a large number of wounded.

poenaes issued for them by the state senate investigating committee. Madero will have a battle to save himself from impeachment in the next few days. Certain members of the house of representatives declare that they will institute proceedings against him for daring to nullify the action of the state senate in demanding the presence of Tilden and the others on a charge of contempt of court.

Rebekahs in Session.

East Liverpool, O., May 9.—The Ohio Rebekah assembly of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows commenced its twenty-fifth annual session in the Odd Fellows' temple here this morning.

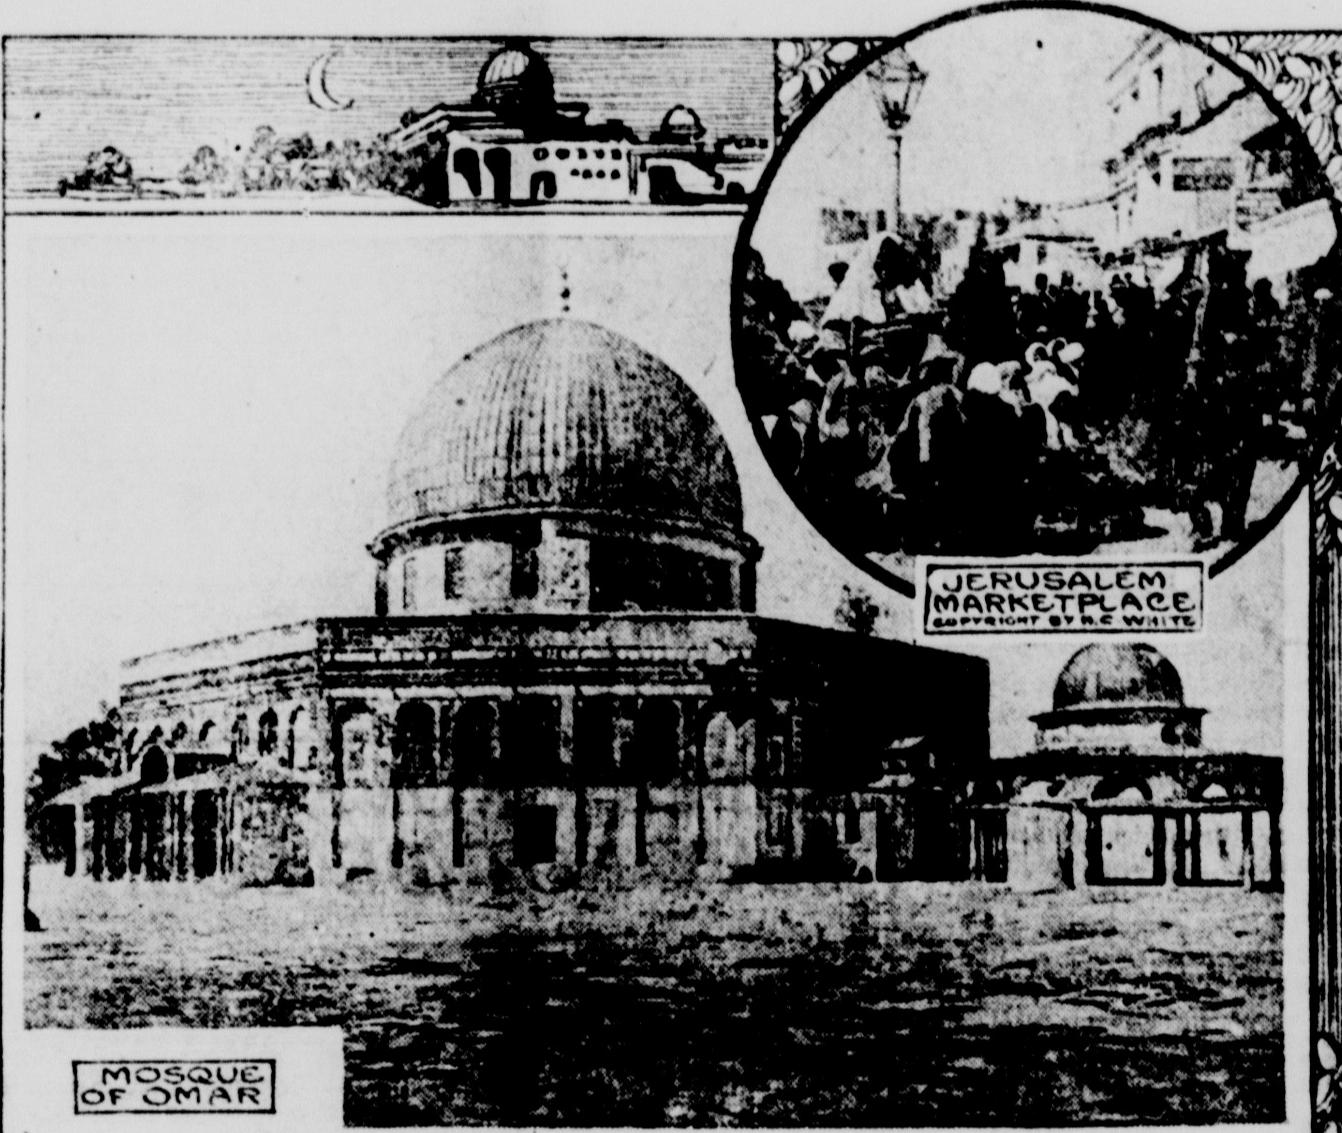

Jurors View The Battleground

Hayward, Wis., May 9.—The jurors before whom John Dietz, the warrior of Cameron dam, and his wife and son are on trial for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp at the famous siege of the Dietz cabin near Winter, Wis., last fall, have asked permission to visit the scene of the battle, and Circuit Judge A. R. Reir indicated that he would grant the request later in the trial.

Pennsylvania Strike Spreading.

Pittsburg, May 9.—The strike of the shopmen on the Pennsylvania road is spreading. All the car inspectors at the Union station in this city are on strike. "I am prosecutor," said Turner. "The examination of Stanley Harr-

Robbery of the Mosque of Omar at Jerusalem; Articles of Great Antiquarian Value Stolen.

The Turkish government is conducting a vigorous inquiry into the reported robbery of the mosque of Omar at Jerusalem, which was built on the site of Solomon's temple. The objects stolen are said to be an old manuscript of the Bible, the crown, ring and sword of Solomon and numerous other articles of great antiquarian value. An Anglo-American syndicate of excavators is suspected of having had something to do with the depredations. Two years ago they obtained a concession to carry on excavation work half a mile from the mosque of Omar. The conclusion is that a tunnel was dug, entrance effected from underneath and the treasures removed in this way.

LEAK IS DISCOVERED IN THE BRIBE PROBE SECRETS ARE TIPPED OFF

Suspected Legislators Are Made Wise to Happenings Before the Grand Jury and Another Probe Into Conduct of Grand Jurors and Attendants May Follow.

PROSECUTOR ISSUES WARNING

Informs Certain Prominent Citizen Who Refuses to Appear Before Inquisitors to Remain Outside Buckeye State During His Entire Term of Office—Partial Report Expected Today—Opha Moore Says Plenty of Money in Sight For Investigation.

Columbus, O., May 9.—Action by the grand jury, which resumed its investigation into the legislative bribery scandals, may follow the discovery that the secrecy of the jury room has not been kept inviolate. Information of what has occurred within the door, which the law has sealed with the prescription of oaths, has been carried out. There have been leaks from the grand jury room not only of testimony, but of the plans of the prosecution to obtain evidence.

Prosecutor Turner announced that a prominent resident of Ohio, now absent, would have to remain out of the state during his entire term as prosecutor, if he continued to avoid testifying before the grand jury. "If he wishes to have any association with his family or personal connection with his business interests, he will have to move both out of Ohio while I am prosecutor," said Turner.

Investigate Poison Story.

East Liverpool, O., May 9.—W. W. Williamson is a prisoner in the city jail, charged with attempting to enter the home of his mother-in-law, wife and son, with intent to murder. The police are seeking evidence of a plot to poison Mrs. Williamson and her mother, Mrs. Catherine Grimm. The woman told the police that last Wednesday they noticed a peculiar taste in their coffee and after drinking it became sick. They said they found crystals in the coffee, and purchased more. A couple of days later the woman said they discovered similar crystals in the second box of coffee.

Papers Given Leeway.

Columbus, O., May 9.—The Bader bill allowing newspapers to publish the news of the filing of petitions in courts, legislative proceedings and transactions of other public bodies has become a law without the governor's signature.

HOUSE Passes Free List Bill

Twenty-four Republicans Side With the Democrats

Vote Taken at the Conclusion of a Ten-hour Session--Socialist in Line, Too.

SURE OF DEFEAT IN SENATE

Leading Insurgents Among Those Who Helped Passage of Measure Removing Duties From Articles Used by Farmers—No Ohioans Among the Number—Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, Also Casts Affirmative Vote.

Washington, May 9.—By a vote of 136 to 109 the house of representatives passed the Democratic free list bill, the vote following a 16-hour session. Twenty-four Republicans and Representative Berger, the Milwaukee Socialist, voted for the measure.

The Republicans who sided with the Democrats on the bill were Messrs. Anderson of Minnesota, Anthony of Kansas, Hanna and Heigeson of North Dakota, Davis of Minnesota, Hubbard of Iowa, Jackson of Kansas, Kent of California, Kopp of Wisconsin, Lafferty, LaFollette, Warburton of Washington, Lindbergh of Minnesota, Lenroot of Wisconsin, Madison of Kansas, Morgan of Oklahoma, Miller of Minnesota, Morse of Wisconsin, Murdock of Kansas, Nelson of Wisconsin, Roberts of Nevada, Steenerson and Volstead of Minnesota.

All of these, with the exception of Representative Hanna, are insurgents. The free list bill now goes to the senate. Even Democratic leaders admit there is no hope for it in that body. It is the general expectation that the bill will be pigeon-holed in the senate committee. Indications are that the committee will not show the courtesy of even superficial discussion. The bill cuts the revenues of the government by an amount estimated all the way from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000, the former being Democratic and the latter Republican figures.

Free Wool Is Favored

Democrats, However, Are Worried Over Possible Bond Issue.

Washington, May 9.—The wool question is still pestering the Democratic side of the house. It seems possible now that the ways and means Democrats may decide to report out a bill providing for free raw wool, despite the opposition of Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and their followers, and there is much worry in consequence.

The existing wool tariff brings in about $40,000,000 a year, and the Democrats of the house are scratching their heads over what will happen if the free wool bill is reported and passed without some provision being made for an augmented income from other sources. They appreciate the fact that the free wool proposition is very popular, but they don't on the other hand consider that the Democratic party will be doing itself any good by acting hastily on a measure which, if enacted into law in connection with the farmers' bill and other tariff measures on the Democratic program, would bring the country face to face with the prospect of a bond issue.

According to Opha Moore, secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers' association, the men who brought the Burns detective to Columbus are determined that the probe shall not stop at the six indictments already returned. Moore still refuses to disclose the identity of the men who contributed the money for the probe, although he is willing that the impression shall prevail that they are manufacturers.

tioned in connection with the graft scandal. One line of investigation points to the Haas loan-shark bill as a measure which is being inquired into by the grand jury.

That Turner is going the limit to get the real crooks in the legislative bribe game is shown by the employment of special detectives to assist in gathering evidence for presentation to the grand jury. These detectives have already turned in some valuable clews, it is said.

DUST-CHOKED CITIZENS BUSY SEARCHING REASON. NARROWED TO TWO MEN

Little by little the tangle surrounding the sprinkling of the streets, non-payment of the contractor, and the why and wherefore generally is coming to light. The matter now seems to rest between two officials—the City Auditor and the Clerk of Council, with the City Collector's opinion that it is the latter who must act as a preliminary to the collection of the assessments by the Council.

In the sprinkling ordinance, passed by Council, June 20, 1910, the provision was made that the assessments were payable at either the office of the County Treasurer at the June, 1910 tax collection, or at the City Treasurer's office within thirty days after the ordinance was passed. If the payments were not made at that time the accounts were to be certified over to the County Auditor and were to be placed upon the tax duplicate and collected as provided by law.

Now here is where the trouble commences. In the ordinance, as originally prepared, the assessments were to be certified over to the County Auditor by the clerk. At some time the word "Clerk" was erased and "auditor" substituted. The Auditor says he has nothing to do with certifying the ordinance to the County Treasurer, and the Clerk of Council insists that it is the auditor's place to make such certification.

Solicitor Rankin when asked about the affair, stated that in his opinion the Clerk of Council should certify the assessments. Acting under this opinion, City Treasurer DeWees will, within the next few days, turn the accounts over to Clerk of Council to be certified over to the County Auditor. Solicitor Rankin bases his opinion on Section 94 of the Ohio Municipal Code and on Section 3846 of the General Code.

Meanwhile the following amounts remained to be collected and turned over to the Flints who did the sprinkling last summer: On Washington avenue, $107.32; Court street to Washington and Columbus avenues, $53.98; Main street from Court to East, $69.78; East street from Main to Washington avenue, $54.81; Hinde street from Paint to Court, $58.09; Temple street from Delaware to Water street, $115.44; Market street from Forest to Walnut street, $82.48; Columbus avenue, $19.92; North street from railroad to railroad $155.19; Main street from Paint to Market, $61.13; Market street from Main to Water, $75.86; North street from B. & O. to corporation line, $13.92; South Fayette street from bridge to Alley, $29.97.

Some of those who have protested the most against the receipt dust and blamed Council for not taking the necessary steps to stop it, still owe their last year's sprinkling assessments, and it is because of this that no contract has been made.

So the matter stands at present, and will probably remain until Thursday night's Council meeting.

Garbage Haulers Given Instructions

Monday night a dozen or more expressmen and garbage haulers were called to the Mayor's office for consultation and instructions regarding the dumping of refuse at the new dump south of the city.

The men were informed that every hauler using the dump for disposing of garbage and refuse, must secure a permit, which would be granted free of charge, and each wagon must have a number on either side, numbers to be furnished by the city, and that certain rules regarding the dumping of refuse must be observed in order to keep the dump in something like fair condition.

TREATMENT FINISHED.

Dr. Roy Brown gave the last Pasteur treatment to Carey Stolzenburg the young son of Carey Stolzenburg Sr., today. Every indication points to the success of the treatment and there are no signs of any trouble from the wounds inflicted by the dog.

Circuit Court

The Circuit Court is proceeding with the trial of appeal cases and error cases today. Several cases have already been heard and submitted.

This afternoon the final hearing of the injunction case brought by Stephon Geringer and others to enjoin the building of a new school house in Wayne township, and to declare the special election illegal, occupied the attention of the Court.

The application of the M. Hamm Co. for a continuance of the hearing of the error case against Daniel T. McLean was denied by the Court and the hearing ordered proceeded with. That hearing will be taken up next after the Wayne township election case.

Judge Allread arrived last night and is sitting today with Judges Dustin and Ferneding.

It is likely that the hearing of cases will be concluded tomorrow.

Iceless Fountain Baldwin Store

The Baldwin Drug store has just installed the most modern and perhaps the most expensive soda fountain in the city, and it is rightly termed "a beauty".

It is manufactured and put up by the L. A. Becker Co. of Chicago, and is known as the "iceless" fountain. It is constructed of white and green Italian marble, highly polished, and German silver. There is not a particle of wood about the fountain, and every means has been employed to make it strictly sanitary at all times and there is no place for disease germs to lurk.

The beautiful fountain is now in operation and Mr. Baldwin invites the public to try the new fountain.

ATTENDS GREAT COUNCIL.

Mr. John Davis left Tuesday morning for Lima to attend the Great Council meeting of Red Men that is being held there this week. Mr. A. G. Degroot, who is representative of Mononacuse Tribe No. 121, this city, went Monday. Mr. J. Davis took with him three paleface candidates to be adopted with a class of 500 tonight at Memorial hall, H. D. Chaffin, Chas. Davis and John Plymire.

Wife Springs Trap Husband Caught

Regarding a sensational case which was unearthed at Adelphi, in Pickaway county, the Lancaster Eagle, says:

A well known resident of this city and a pretty Lancaster girl were arrested at the hotel in Adelphi, Pickaway county, Friday night about 8 o'clock by Detective William Lester of Columbus, and the village marshal, upon the request and identification of the guilty pair of the wronged wife of the Lancaster man who accompanied the officers leading them to the place where the recreant spouse and wayward girl were trapped.

There have been suspicions and charges on the part of the wife against the husband for some time and this knowledge has not been confined to the family and immediate relationship, but it has been community wide for months, but the husband denied the accusation. Friday the wife's suspicions were again aroused and upon close inquiry and investigation she was assured that the husband drove to Adelphi and there was to meet the girl who it was learned purchased ticket on the afternoon C. & M. V. train for Adelphi.

The landlord directed the officer and the wife to the room which had been arranged for the pair and the girl opened the door at their request and was placed under arrest. The landlord informed the wife that the same couple had frequently stopped there as husband and wife and gave her the dates of such visits which he copied from the register.

The young woman who was caught with the married man was bitter against the wife and the officers who caused her arrest, bringing such disgrace upon her and her family.

MAPLE GROVE ROAD MAY NOT BE BUILT

The Ross County Board of Commissioners have decided that the proposed road from the C. H. & D. to Maple Grove Hotel will cost too much, and have decided that unless the Maple Grove Company raises its offer of $1000 to $2000 to assist in building the road, none will be constructed by the commissioners, as the entire cost is estimated at nearly $5,000.

Bids were received on the new road, the lowest estimate being about $4,500, but the Commissioners have decided that unless the Maple Grove Company offers more inducement, the matter will be dropped for the time being, claiming that it is the hotel and not the county which is most benefited.

Chillicothe Driving Park Again Sold

Under orders of the court, the Chillicothe Driving Park was sold Monday afternoon to Jacob Caldwell and Jacob Houk, for $20,800. The two men who made the purchase stated that they will improve the property, and will use it in giving county fairs, etc. The fate of this property has been watched with interest by the citizens of Chillicothe, who were afraid other use would be made of the grounds when they went into new hands.

Annual Church Meeting And Reception

Monday night at the Presbyterian church was inaugurated a church meeting to present reports of the year's work to members, followed by a reception to promote sociability. It is the intention to make an annual affair of this meeting and reception.

There was a large attendance of members and the reports of present conditions were most gratifying. The various branches of the church have been completely organized and work has been accomplished along systematized lines and has been highly successful.

Mr. Frank McCormick, church treasurer, reported the financial condition excellent, and Dr. G. W. Blakeley, the incoming chairman of the Board of Deacons, emphasized the satisfaction with which the board reviewed the year's work from the standpoint of finance.

Mr. Ray Zaner, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported a very large attendance and much interest under the newly systematized and graded work.

Mr. Frank M. Fullerton in the inspiring report, stated that the full assessment had been made to the Synodical and the general missionary offerings were the largest that have ever been given.

Encouraging reports were also given from the ladies' societies, Mrs. J. F. Dennis, in behalf of the Ladies' Guild; Mrs. S. D. Morgan, for the Ladies' Missionary Society, and Miss Ida Moats for the young Peoples' Society.

A new branch established this year, the Sunday School Home Department, has proved one of the most helpful features of Sunday school work. Mrs. Chas. Watson reported 94 members enrolled in this department, which is a boon to the sick and suffering.

There were informal little talks by the elders and deacons of the church and the senior elder, Mr. J. W. Rothrock, closed the meeting with prayer.

Rev. Campbell presided and Mr. Kneisley, violinist, and Miss Edith Campbell, pianist, played beautifully during the meeting.

The social hour in the basement was thoroughly pleasurable, with refreshments served and a general community of interests cementing sociability.

In Social Circles

Miss Marie Dale was given a delightful surprise by her friends last evening, in honor of her seventeenth birthday. So cleverly was the affair planned and executed, that she did not once have the least suspicion of what was going on until eight o'clock, when the guests arrived. The attendance was strictly confined to the members of the P. T. C., who presented the young hostess with many beautiful birthday gifts. In an amusing "marble contest", Miss Catherine Rothrock won first prize, and Miss Fontaine Smith consolation. Mrs. Will E. Dale assisted in the festivities of the evening, and served a delicious lunch. Those in attendance were Misses Catherine Rothrock, Gladys Locke, Sylvia Snider, Constance Ballard, Gladys Brakefield, Fontaine Smith, Louise Bowyer, Fern Sunkel and Pauline Dale.

Etiquette

Above all things treat your visitor with deference and courtesy, it costs nothing and shows culture and intelligence. If he or she happen to be a little farther advanced toward the goal, remember that Providence substitutes no alternative for anyone in that direction and the bloom will fade from the cheeks of all when kissed by Father Time. Also remember that the wise person observes and learns by absorption and the fool laughs at everything. A good hearty laugh is a builder of tissues, but the Lord hath so provided that a hypocritical laugh engenders the art of hypocrisy and develops it to such a degree that it can be detected in the very countenance. Perchance a fault of his or hers you might be aware of or suspect, but as a guest while under your roof treat him with gentility, as we all have faults. For, place yourself in the position of a visitor and you will find it, to say the least, very uncomfortable to be an object of ridicule, if endowed with good common sense to begin with.

NEW POSTAL CARD WILL SOON BE ISSUED.

The government is having a new postal card printed. They will be cream-colored and printed in red, and will take the place of the present cards of black ink design.

This is an effort to present an artistic card and the government is preparing to spend $65,000 more this year than last in this decorative effort. This may seem extravagance, but when one learns that the profit on the postal cards exceeds $8,000,000 a year, the extra expense seems justified. Besides, the department secretly hopes that the cards will be so much more attractive that added sales will more than meet the extra expense.

The postal card proved its usefulness long ago and its extended use in the commercial world in recent years has given it an increasing importance. For the transmission of notices and of information not of a private nature the postal card is a great saver of time and money. If we should ever adopt one cent postage for first-class matter the price of the postal card probably will take a corresponding drop. When that time comes postal cards sell two for a cent and still show a profit of $4,000,000 to the government.

There are two kinds of freckles, the summer visitors and the permanent residents. The former can sometimes be removed by the application of any one of many mild lotions.

Crushed strawberries are recommended. Finely powdered cinnamon mixed with four times its bulk of honey and applied night and morning has done good. Pea broth internally has been credited with helpfulness. Some country maidens swear by the distilled water of wild pansy leaves.

Permanent freckles will not yield to any such mild measures. Undoubtedly they can be lightened by any of the things that banish summer freckles, but they do not disappear.

CREDIT TO ALL.

Washington's Board of Health is coming to the front and doing things.

This is far preferable to an official life of inaction devoted to a learned discussion of the theory and possibility of movements suggested and designed to better conditions.

This is a world of action and if we change the course of the actors we must be active and do things with people who are continually doing things themselves and refuse to wait for the deliberations to catch up.

Washington is far behind in her methods which make for an improved state of health an improved appearance of the city and it is high time she was moving.

The move to pave the up-town alleys is a good one and should result in great good when completed.

None of these regulations are burdensome and if followed and obeyed honestly by all the people will fit into the new order of things as easily as the old and will be much better for it.

To the credit of our people be it said that as yet not a dissenting voice has been raised against the crusade against filth and disease now well started.

Every good citizen has his shoulder to the wheel and is helping to push things along.

If the plans now under consideration are carried to completion it will not be necessary to ask strangers not to look closely into any nook and corner of the city.

The Board of Health is entitled to great credit for the work already done. It is entitled to credit for the plans suggested and for its good intentions regarding the future. It will be entitled to more when the plans are consummated, but to no more now and no more than than the good citizens who join enthusiastically in the movement for better conditions.

THE MEXICAN TANGLE.

Well, the Mexican war situation looks considerable worse since hostilities have been resumed.

The failure of the warring factions to agree upon terms of peace was a serious disappointment to this government which has been placed in a very embarrassing position. Along the whole Mexican frontier for the last sixty days the conditions have been such that the firing of a gun by some hot-headed soldier on either side might precipitate a struggle, the end of which no man could foretell.

Not only is that tense condition on again by the resumption of hostilities but in the battle of Juarez yesterday five American citizens were killed in El Paso by stray bullets from guns in the hands of the soldiers of Diaz and Madero.

The soldiers of the Insurrectos have broken bounds, disobeyed orders and rushed to an open battle. Diaz has proved to be in this crisis a weakling, unable to handle the situation by force of arms on the field of battle and unable during the peace negotiations to arrive at a conclusion which would end the war.

If Mexico was the sole nation with whom we were compelled to render an accounting for the stewardship assumed under the Monroe Doctrine, the situation would be comparatively easy of solution, but it is not.

The danger of serious trouble to our nation is far greater than many people have believed.

NO SECRET ABOUT THIS!

Did you read the other day about a certain prominent Mail Order merchant who was fined a large round sum by Uncle Sam for defrauding people through the mails? He advertised a so called vacuum cleaner which didn't clean. The government brought together at great expense a number of persons from various parts of the country, who testified to the worthlessness of the device. It cost Uncle Sam money, but he got it back in the fine paid by the Mail Order merchant.

The worthless vacuum cleaner cost these witnesses and many others money, but they didn't get it back, and they never will.

Plenty of other such concerns are working other frauds upon the public. Persons who buy a pig in a poke can expect to get bitten.

It is no secret that the country is populous with people who have been bitten by the Mail Order pig.

Here's the secret of satisfaction in buying things: Trade at home, where you can see what you're getting for your money.

POETRY FOR TODAY

FINANCIAL WISDOM.

"In all my life I never have spent $20 foolishly."—Interview with a famous philanthropist.

Oh pause and contemplate this man, ye patriots, I beg, No oily green goods man, so glib, has fished his kale, or meg; He never dropped a double-X on horse that could not run—in vain have shrewd promoters talked—he's stood off every one.

He never fell for gilt-edged set of Tolstoy's peerless works; Nor ten full yards of Henry James—he left that to his clerks; He never was stung for mining stocks—wish we could say the same He's never dropped a twenty in the other fellow's game.

All wisdom of the seer and sage has dwindled now to naught Beside the wisdom of this man whose cash has never been caught; But hold!—he's founded colleges where football heroes train; Is that financial wisdom then?—we strain our ears in vain.

EXCESSIVE VANITY BLOCKS PATH OF OUR PROGRESSION

THERE isn't a girl, I hope, who doesn't want to get on in this world. All of us have some sort of an ambition.

No, I'll modify that assertion, for I'll admit that there seems to be a few who are so well endowed with this world's goods or are so lazy that they don't care a snap of the fingers what the future may have in store for them, or that they may improve on themselves or it.

But if we have an ambition and work toward the fulfillment of it we are bound to progress. That's a law of nature, you know—progression. If we don't progress we retrogress. There is no such thing as standing still in our endeavors.

But one enemy of progression is the vast self-satisfaction which some girls and women are possessed of. They are positive the world cannot get along without them, and have arrived at a state of mind which is more than unpleasant—it is positive harmful.

If we do not progress, we go backward. And how can one progress with the burden of a vast self-satisfaction pulling one back?

A girl who is absolutely satisfied with her work is not on the lookout for mistakes. If she is reprimanded she takes it ill-naturedly and blames not herself but her employer, "For," says she, "I know positively that my work was correct. He is just trying to find fault with me."

Therefore, instead of improving, she falls into slipshod habits. Instead of doing her work carefully mistakes crop out which lose their significance in the mind of the girl, since she is sure that her work is always right, or at least as near perfection as work can be.

Have you ever known a person of this kind, a man who was sure there was no room for improvement in his mind, a girl who was positive that her taste in dress, in the selection of her friends and her competence in work could not be improved?

Don't you see that in admitting this she is taking her first step backward? No matter how fine her work may be, if she thinks she can't do better work naturally she will become careless and the mistakes will creep in and grow as they pass unnoticed?

This will lower the standard of the work, and if in the same spirit of self-satisfaction she does not seek to rectify her mistakes by elimination, backwards, and always backwards, will be her growth.

And if we progress backwards it isn't progression any more, but retrogression.

Don't be satisfied with your mind, girls. Seek always to improve it and the same with your work. There is always room for improvement if we will but open our eyes to it instead of letting a film of vanity shut off our vision.

Or if the vanity doesn't quite blind us to our faulty work, it throws a rose-hued veil over the eyes and then the mistakes are transformed.

But tear away the veil, girls, and hold your work up to the light of good sense, which will soon ferret out any errors which either your life or the work you do contains.

And always remember that you can't stand still. Either you progress or you regress, and you can't do both any more than you can do neither.

So let your standard of work be forward and not backward, for that means success, while the other spells failure.

A BURGLAR'S AWFUL DEED may not paralyze a home so completely as a mother's long illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid remedy for women. major, Rell G. Allen, tossed the ball that started the first of the newly organized Student Ball League.

The game was called at ten minutes after four and was quite exciting throughout. Virgil Dawson, himself as pitcher for Sunnyside, and Howard Gregg, who took his place in the pitcher's box, the last three innings, helped to win the Central team.

Considering that this was the first and that the teams had very little practice, it was full of exciting play. The final score was 12 to 4 in favor of Sunnyside.

Frankfort Holds Fair This Year

Frankfort can be classed with the progressives. She has just announced that a real county fair will be held there, the first one being announced for late summer or early fall.

A half mile race course is being constructed on the Strawder Roseboom property and necessary buildings will be rushed to completion at once.

A fair company is under course of organization, and a number of wealthy citizens are back of it. There is no reason why Frankfort should not have a good fair, as the town and country is full of prosperous and progressive citizens.

SWAT THAT FLY

Are you doing anything to make the world better for your having lived in it?

God bless the man who first invented screens. The device that has at once brought the greatest degree of personal comfort, cleanliness of household and individual safety is the door and window screen. No other invention of the last quarter of a century can compare with its worth and utility as a life and health saver, and yet, until recently, screens were used principally to exclude the fly and mosquito solely on the ground of personal comfort.

Heads of families who are looking for an investment may be assured of one that is certain of enormous returns through the prevention of sickness and maybe death by the early and effective screening of every outside door and window of their home. It is much easier to keep flies out by proper screening than to get them out once they get in. Screen your house! Scientists of all countries are agreed on one point—that the fly is carrier of disease germs—therefore, screen your house!

Flies love to feast on filth, and then get into the house and wipe their feet on your cake or baby's bottle. Screen the house! It is true they are nature's scavengers, but they spread filth and very often disease in doing their work, besides it is better to do your own scavenging by keeping clean than to have the fly do it for you; for not only is the fly a dangerous companion, but clean people are beginning to suspect that those who have flies about them are dirty housekeepers, else flies would not be there. If, therefore, you wish to bear the reputation of cleanliness in your neighborhood, be sure that your trash and manure heaps are frequently removed, and that your house is properly screened!

SUGGESTIONS FOR FLY TIME.
Keep the flies out of dwellings. Get screens for doors and windows. Be on guard all the time against them.

Keep screens over articles of food. Don't let flies get near the pantry, kitchen or dining room.

Be doubly careful about keeping flies out of the sick room. They are likely not only to bring complications of new diseases, but to carry the invalid's disease to many others.

The fly season will soon be here, and those who put in their screens promptly will be taking the best of precautions against having disease germs introduced into their homes by flies.

CREDIT TO ALL.

Washington's Board of Health is coming to the front and doing things.

This is far preferable to an official life of inaction devoted to a learned discussion of the theory and possibility of movements suggested and designed to better conditions.

This is a world of action and if we change the course of the actors we must be active and do things with people who are continually doing things themselves and refuse to wait for the deliberations to catch up.

Washington is far behind in her methods which make for an improved state of health an improved appearance of the city and it is high time she was moving.

The move to pave the up-town alleys is a good one and should result in great good when completed.

None of these regulations are burdensome and if followed and obeyed honestly by all the people will fit into the new order of things as easily as the old and will be much better for it.

To the credit of our people be it said that as yet not a dissenting voice has been raised against the crusade against filth and disease now well started.

Every good citizen has his shoulder to the wheel and is helping to push things along.

If the plans now under consideration are carried to completion it will not be necessary to ask strangers not to look closely into any nook and corner of the city.

The Board of Health is entitled to great credit for the work already done. It is entitled to credit for the plans suggested and for its good intentions regarding the future. It will be entitled to more when the plans are consummated, but to no more now and no more than than the good citizens who join enthusiastically in the movement for better conditions.

THE MEXICAN TANGLE.

Well, the Mexican war situation looks considerable worse since hostilities have been resumed.

The failure of the warring factions to agree upon terms of peace was a serious disappointment to this government which has been placed in a very embarrassing position. Along the whole Mexican frontier for the last sixty days the conditions have been such that the firing of a gun by some hot-headed soldier on either side might precipitate a struggle, the end of which no man could foretell.

Not only is that tense condition on again by the resumption of hostilities but in the battle of Juarez yesterday five American citizens were killed in El Paso by stray bullets from guns in the hands of the soldiers of Diaz and Madero.

The soldiers of the Insurrectos have broken bounds, disobeyed orders and rushed to an open battle. Diaz has proved to be in this crisis a weakling, unable to handle the situation by force of arms on the field of battle and unable during the peace negotiations to arrive at a conclusion which would end the war.

If Mexico was the sole nation with whom we were compelled to render an accounting for the stewardship assumed under the Monroe Doctrine, the situation would be comparatively easy of solution, but it is not.

The danger of serious trouble to our nation is far greater than many people have believed.

NO SECRET ABOUT THIS!

Did you read the other day about a certain prominent Mail Order merchant who was fined a large round sum by Uncle Sam for defrauding people through the mails? He advertised a so called vacuum cleaner which didn't clean. The government brought together at great expense a number of persons from various parts of the country, who testified to the worthlessness of the device. It cost Uncle Sam money, but he got it back in the fine paid by the Mail Order merchant.

The worthless vacuum cleaner cost these witnesses and many others money, but they didn't get it back, and they never will.

Plenty of other such concerns are working other frauds upon the public. Persons who buy a pig in a poke can expect to get bitten.

It is no secret that the country is populous with people who have been bitten by the Mail Order pig.

Here's the secret of satisfaction in buying things: Trade at home, where you can see what you're getting for your money.

POETRY FOR TODAY

FINANCIAL WISDOM.

"In all my life I never have spent $20 foolishly."—Interview with a famous philanthropist.

Oh pause and contemplate this man, ye patriots, I beg,

No oily green goods man, so glib, has fished his kale, or meg; He never dropped a double-X on horse that could not run—

In vain have shrewd promoters talked—he's stood off every one.

He never fell for gilt-edged set of Tolstoy's peerless works;

Nor ten full yards of Henry James—he left that to his clerks;

He never was stung for mining stocks—wishes we could say the same

He's never dropped a twenty in the other fellow's game.

All wisdom of the seer and sage has dwindled now to naught Beside the wisdom of this man whose cash has ne'er been caught;

But hold!—he's founded colleges where football heroes train;

Is that financial wisdom then?—we strain our ears in vain.

EXCESSIVE VANITY BLOCKS PATH OF OUR PROGRESSION

THERE isn't a girl, I hope, who doesn't want to get on in this world. All of us have some sort of an ambition.

No, I'll modify that assertion, for I'll admit that there seems to be a few who are so well endowed with this world's goods or are so lazy that they don't care a snap of the fingers what the future may have in store for them, or that they may improve on themselves or it.

But if we have an ambition and work toward the fulfillment of it we are bound to progress. That's a law of nature, you know—progress. If we don't progress we retrogress. There is no such thing as standing still in our endeavors.

But one enemy of progression is the vast self-satisfaction which some girls and women are possessed of. They are positive the world cannot get along without them, and have arrived at a state of mind which is more than unpleasant—it is positive harmful.

If we do not progress, we go backward. And how can one progress with the burden of a vast self-satisfaction pulling one back?

A girl who is absolutely satisfied with her work is not on the lookout for mistakes. If she is reprimanded she takes it ill-naturedly and blames not herself but her employer. "For," says she, "I know positively that my work was correct. He is just trying to find fault with me."

Therefore, instead of improving, she falls into slipshod habits. Instead of doing her work carefully mistakes crop out which lose their significance in the mind of the girl, since she is sure that her work is always right, or at least as near perfection as work can be.

Have you ever known a person of this kind, a man who was sure there was no room for improvement in his mind, a girl who was positive that her taste in dress, in the selection of her friends and her competence in work could not be improved?

Don't you see that in admitting this she is taking her first step backward? No matter how fine her work may be, if she thinks she can not do better work naturally she will become careless and the mistakes will creep in and grow as they pass unnoticed.

This will lower the standard of the work, and if in the same spirit of self-satisfaction she does not seek to rectify her mistakes by elimination, backwards, and always backwards, will be her growth.

And if we progress backwards it isn't progression any more, but retrogression.

Don't be satisfied with your mind, girls. Seek always to improve it and the same with your work. There is always room for improvement if we will open our eyes to it instead of letting a film of vanity shut off our vision.

Or if the vanity doesn't quite blind us to our faulty work, it throws a rose-hued veil over the eyes and then the mistakes are transformed.

But tear away the veil, girls, and hold your work up to the light of good sense, which will soon ferret out any errors which either your life or the work you do contains.

And always remember that you can't stand still. Either you progress or you regress, and you can't do both any more than you can do neither.

So let your standard of work be forward and not backward, for that means success, while the other spells failure.

mayor, Rell G. Allen, tossed first ball that started the first of the newly organized Students' League.

The game was called at ten minutes after four and was quite exciting throughout. Virgil Dawson feasted himself as pitcher for Sunnyside, and Howard Gregg, who took his place in the pitcher's box, in the last three innings, helped to new life in the Central team. Considering that this was the first game and that the teams had very little practice, it was full of exciting moments. The final score was 12 to 4 in favor of Sunnyside.

Frankfort Holds Fair This Year

Frankfort can be classed with the progressives. She has just announced that a real county fair will be held there, the first one being announced for late summer or early fall.

A half mile race course is being constructed on the Strawder Roseboom property and necessary buildings will be rushed to completion at once.

A fair company is under course of organization, and a number of wealthy citizens are back of it. There is no reason why Frankfort should not have a good fair, as the town and country is full of prosperous and progressive citizens.

SWAT THAT FLY

Are you doing anything to make the world better for your having lived in it?

God bless the man who first invented screens. The device that has at once brought the greatest degree of personal comfort, cleanliness of household and individual safety is the door and window screen. No other invention of the last quarter of a century can compare with its worth and utility as a life and health saver, and yet, until recently, screens were used principally to exclude the fly and mosquito solely on the ground of personal comfort.

Heads of families who are looking for an investment may be assured of one that is certain of enormous returns through the prevention of sickness and maybe death by the early and effective screening of every outside door and window of their home. It is much easier to keep flies out by proper screening than to get them out once they get in. Screen your house! Scientists of all countries are agreed on one point—that the fly is carrier of disease germs—therefore, screen your house!

Flies love to feast on filth, and then get into the house and wipe their feet on your cake or baby's bottle. Screen the house! It is true they are nature's scavengers, but they spread filth and very often disease in doing their work; besides it is better to do your own scavenging by keeping clean than to have the fly do it for you; for not only is the fly a dangerous companion, but clean people are beginning to suspect that those who have flies about them are dirty housekeepers, else flies would not be there. If, therefore, you wish to bear the reputation of cleanliness in your neighborhood, be sure that your trash and manure heaps are frequently removed, and that your house is properly screened!

SUGGESTIONS FOR FLY TIME.

Keep the flies out of dwellings. Get screens for doors and windows. Be on guard all the time against them.

Keep screens over articles of food. Don't let flies get near the pantry, kitchen or dining room.

Be doubly careful about keeping flies out of the sick room. They are likely not only to bring complications of new diseases, but to carry the invalid's disease to many others.

The fly season will soon be here, and those who put in their screens promptly will be taking the best of precautions against having disease germs introduced into their homes by flies.

Mr. Underwood, when seen, would not admit that a free wool bill would be reported. He did acknowledge, however, that there was a preponderance of sentiment on his side of the house for free wool and for big cuts all along the line on the manufactured product. He seemed worried, however, over the loss of revenue, and said that experts employed by the committee were now at work endeavoring to ascertain if there was any probability that the increased imports of manufactured woolens under the reduced rates proposed would make up a material part of the loss in revenue which would result in the placing of the raw product on the free list.

Taft Tells Farmers He Fears Not Effect of Reciprocity.

Washington, May 9.—A delegation of farmers from the National Grange, representing 13 or 14 states, made a covert suggestion to President Taft at the White House that his reciprocity policy was going to result in widespread desertions from the Republican ranks. The grangers got a quick answer. The president, with characteristic frankness, told them to their faces that the possible effect of Canadian reciprocity on his personal political fortunes had not and would not change him.

52 LOTS SOLD

The Big Lot Sale at Baker's Addition goes merrily on. Everybody is talking about the beautiful location. All lots are large, streets broad and alleys wide. The best people are buying these lots for permanent homes. No one can make a mistake in buying any of the lots in the entire allotment. They are all desirable.

$100.00 CASH

Has been refused by one of our purchasers. Another party was offered a profit of $25 a few hours after he bought, and still another was offered $35 cash. How can you make money easier? Prices on all lots have been cut down to brass tacks to move the lots quick. We expect everybody who buys to make money on his investment. Our large lots, low prices and easy terms are the talk of the town. Keen business men of sound judgment claim that this is the greatest real estate proposition ever presented to the people of Washington and vicinity. Our reasonable restrictions restrict everything undesirable, and for that reason protect every buyer. Buy where you know that your children will have good, wholesome playmates. Buy where all houses built will be new and up to date. Buy where you have plenty of room for a pretty lawn and garden; where you are not hemmed in by the confines of a small postage stamp-like lot.

YOU MUST HURRY

Take a day off from your work and pick out your lot at once. You ought to double your money the minnte you buy. Your neighbors have selected their lots, and in many cases have already been offered a large bonus on their purchase. Do you always intend to hold back and let the other man get ahead of you? Don't your wife and family like to live well and wear good clothes?

Then don't be satisfied to work only with your hands, but use your brains and let your dollars work for you. An investment in a Baker lot Today means independence later on

Prices $25 to $195. A Few Higher

All who have seen our lots are greatly surprised at our very low prices. The report has been circulated that our cheapest lots are bringing $250.00. Nothing could be farther from the truth. We sell full-sized lots, 50x165 feet, with alleys in the rear, for $125.00 on easy terms, with no interest or taxes for one year, and these lots have a 12-inch sewer in and paid for. Investigate for yourself. Seeing is believing. Here is the opportunity of a lifetime to secure a choice home-site at one-half its real value. All lots are good. NOT ONE UNDESIRABLE.

Golden pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, and was fined $5 and costs on the first charge, and $5 and costs on the latter charge, both fines being suspended pending good behavior.

Golden is alleged to have attacked his wife, late last Thursday night, and she appealed to the police for protection. Golden was ordered to appear before Mayor Allen at a certain hour, but never showed up. He neglected to put in an appearance the next time he was summoned, and Monday night he was placed under arrest and when he appeared before Mayor Allen he received a severe lecturing, and was informed that when a man is ordered to appear before His Honor he was expected to be there on time.

In concluding the lecture after suspending the fine, Mayor Allen said: "If it was not for that wife of yours, you would be compelled to pay every penny of this fine, but this gives you a chance to do better.

However, if I see a crooked move out of you the fine will become due, and if you can't pay it you will have to go to the works. I don't want to hear of you walking crooked again, or you suffer the consequences." "I can't walk straight because I have a broken ankle," replied Golden.
"Ninety-five per cent of the drunks who come before me are afflicted in much the same way to hear them tell it; now go!" said His Honor.

Price of Cable Messages.

In a recent address the British postmaster general said that "the present cable rates, so far as they are used by business men, are not unduly high, owing to the rapid growth of the use of code telegraphy, but the case is different in regard to cablegrams in plain language, whether they are social telegrams or press telegrams. The assent of nearly all of the great cable companies throughout the world has been obtained to a reduction of 50 per cent in the charges for plain language telegrams which are subject to be deferred for a time not exceeding twenty-four hours in any case. The assent of one or two foreign administrations is still to be obtained to that reform."

Foreclosure Order Issued
Against D. T. & I.

Judge Killits, of the United States District Court has ordered foreclosure of the mortgages amounting to nearly $5,000,000, secured by bonds of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, now in the hands of a receiver. Unless the company meets the demands made upon it by Wednesday night, the order of the court becomes effective and the sale of the road will take place.

This is of utmost interest to Washington citizens, for there is every reason to think the road will be sold, which means that a larger company will secure control, and the poor accommodations accorded the entire country through which the road passes, will be greatly benefited.

The New York Trust Company and the Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York are the bond holders. The former company owns $4,252,000 of Traps That Await English Speaking Tourists In Portugal.

THERE ARE NO TOES THERE.

But, Then, One Has Twenty Fingers to Make Up the Loss. Fingers of the Hand and Fingers of the Foot—Oddities of the Verb "To Walk."

The Englishman or American in Portugal who thinks in his own language and tries to speak in the language of the country he is visiting is a great smile producer.

For instance, you never marry anybody in Portugal unless—strange paradox—you happen to be a priest. You marry "with" your beloved Maria, and the priest marries you both. In the same way you never dream about anybody but always "with" them.

When the landlady at your boarding house is ladling out your soup you call out, "Arrive." You are telling her to arrive at the stopping point—in other words, that you don't want more than she has put out. When you see a child that you want to fondle at the other side of the room you say to her
"Arrive here." And the child promptly
"arrives."

In England when we speak of walking we refer to a certain use of the legs. But the Portuguese verb "to walk" has many more significations.
In Portugal not only do the people walk, but also the carts and cars walk the trains walk, a balloon walks, and a boat walks. Stranger still, the hands of a clock walk round the face!
A clock, by the way, never goes; it "works."

Unless you are very intimate or very rude you never say to your fair partner at dinner, "Will you have some bread?" etc. You inquire, "Will your excellency have some bread?" or, "Will the lady have some bread?" the "lady" meaning not some other lady, but your fair partner herself.

In spite of winter you are never cold
in Portugal unless you are a corpse.
You are "with" cold. In the same way you are occasionally "with" heat,
"with" headache, "with" hunger or
"with" thirst. When you have occasion to discuss the weather you say,
"It makes cold," "It makes fog," etc. On your way home from an entertainment you tell your companion that it "makes" dark.

If speaking of her husband a wife says he is a "tame" man. She merely means that he is a man of peace and justice.

The word "house" means more than with us. Your buttons share your own privilege of living in a house. The buttonholes are called "holes of the buttons." The squares on a chess board are also "houses." You don't say, "I'm going to shave." You say "I'm going to 'dot' the beard." Neither do you say on the way to the barber's, "I'm going to get my hair cut," but you say, "I'm going to cut my hair."

When you are in Portugal you have twenty fingers, but no toes. If you want to make a distinction you say "Fingers of the hand" or "Fingers of the foot." Instead of telling the servant to set the table you tell her to "put" it. When you go to the theater you "assist." You don't mean by that that you "come on" nor even that you do a little scene shifting. You mean that you are there.

Residents in flats who meditate taking a holiday in Portugal will be relieved to hear that no one plays the

ALWAYS ON LOOKOUT.

New York, May 9.—Before leaving for Los Angeles Detective Burns repudiated the charge that his operatives led Ohio legislators astray.

"Induce them to take bribes," exclaimed Burns. "Why, if some of those fellows heard that a man with money was around they would break down the door of his room to get him."

"You could not pass a bill in Ohio to stop the plague without bribing the legislature. There are a lot of grifters there who would steal a bucket of coal. They chased my men everywhere to get the coal. They could smell a dollar a mile off."

and from many loyal Buckeyes who live outside of Ohio," said Moore. "If the present backers of the investigation should withdraw their financial support there would be enough money coming from other sources to carry the probe through."

"I confidently believe that 40 members of the legislature can be indicted," concluded Moore.

Those who are trying to belittle the grand jury and its work appear to be well organized both in and out of the legislature. In the legislature there will be opposition to the bill to appropriate $7,500 to defray the expenses of the grand jury probe; while outside the legislature many interests whose bills are under investigation appear to have formed offensive and defensive alliances and to be well financed to protect themselves in case the grand jury brings indictments against any of the agents of these interests.

Governor's Influence Felt.

Governor Harmon's influence is on the side of a real probe. Furthermore it is known that he favors the removal of members of the legislature whose conduct may be shown to be culpable, although not sufficient for indictment. This would include certain members who have taken strong positions against the people's interests through business or professional connections with certain corporations.

Officials of the Ohio Coal Dealers association, with headquarters in Columbus, are said to be under summons to appear before the grand jury this week. Charges are said to have been made that this organization took an active hand in legislation affecting the state coal interests, including the Green screen bill and the Crawford bill to compel railroads to reimburse shippers of coal lost in transit.

Columbus, O., May 9.—Senator Yount of Darke county introduced a bill to increase the salary of legislators to $2,500 a year. It was given its second reading and referred to the committee on privileges and elections. Yount's bill compelling lobbyists to register was read the second time and sent to the committee on libraries.

The senate confirmed the following appointments: William T. Poland, Hamilton county, tax commissioner for term ending February, 1911; F. E. Munn, Wood county, tax commissioner; R. M. Dittey, Highland county Steubenville, O., May 9.—The disappearance of John Kidd, 49, a local labor leader and operative potter, was cleared when he was found dead in a farm hollow near here by a searching party. There was a bullet hole in his chest and one in his head. Friends say he committed suicide because of ill health.

Cleveland Pastors Oppose Sunday Ball

Cleveland Pastors Will Strongly Oppose Innovation.

Cleveland, O., May 9.—Charles Somers and Ernest Barnard, president and vice president of the Cleveland baseball club, conferred with Director Hogen with regard to Sunday baseball playing in Cleveland. Chief Kohler was also in the office at the time, which Mr. Somers said was an accident. Director Hogen said that the club owners would have to furnish their own police protection and that the license fee would be fixed by a set of council.

The Cleveland Ministers' union, in session in the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, adopted a resolution urging the city council to enact an ordinance prohibiting the playing of professional baseball in Cleveland on Sunday. Rev. A. S. Gregg introduced the resolution, which expressed regret that Governor Harmon should not have vetoed the Greeves bill, and demanded of the council that an ordinance be passed barring Sunday baseball in Cleveland.

Ohio Man Lands Good Position

Washington, May 9.—The senate committee on judiciary authorized favorable reports on the nominations of William A. Day, Jr., U. G. Denman and Hy Davis, respectively United States judge, district attorney and marshal for the northern district of Ohio. Confirmation by the senate will follow shortly.
